

Course Information

Introductory Signalling Principles

About the Course

Introductory Signalling Principles is available as a 2-day face to face training course, or as a self-paced online training program.

Introductory Signalling Principles provides an overview of the principles which form the foundation of today's signalling systems.

More Information

For more information, including course dates, please contact us:

web CompetencyAustralia.edu.au email training@CompetencyAustralia.com.au
phone +612 4040 9110

Topics Covered

- ◆ A history of signalling
- ◆ Mechanical Interlocking
- ◆ Signalling a station
- ◆ Interlocking signals
- ◆ Locking tables
- ◆ Electricity and the Railway
- ◆ Train Separation
- ◆ Train detection systems
- ◆ Points
- ◆ Controlled Signalling
- ◆ Automatic Signalling
- ◆ Colour Light Signals

Online Content

Students are provided with access to Competency Australia's online Learning Management System (LMS). Online content includes course notes, videos, quizzes and assessment activities.

Trainer support is provided via email and telephone or video call.